Dear [Redacted]

STAT

I am writing to thank you for your prompt response to my inquiry about the potential effects of the pay situation for top officials in your agency. I am using your response, along with others that I received, in order to gain support for a pay raise for executive and judicial branch officials.

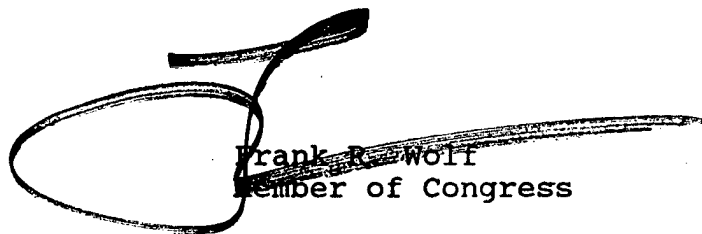

On March 23 I introduced H.R. 1653, which would let President Bush take the lead in addressing the pay situation. The bill directs the President to make pay recommendations to Congress within 60 days for all those positions, except for Members of Congress and the Vice President, that would have received a pay raise last February if the President's original pay recommendations had gone into effect. The President's recommendations would then go into effect unless Congress passes a joint resolution of disapproval within 30 days.

I have enclosed a copy of my floor statement as well as a compilation of the responses that I received from federal agency and bureau heads like yourself.

If you continue to believe that a pay raise would help you to carry out your mission, I would appreciate your support for a pay raise in your communications with the President.

Again, thank you for your help in this matter.

Sincerely,

Frank R. Wolf
Member of Congress
